Cow Card per female

Short Story

Pictures

We have an expense and income report for the calendar year . You do up to August for fair, you may make copies and start from when you got your animals or 1st of year. Then you will finish this year and start another one for next year's project. The cow cards are for each female your show and make copies and keep up cows that are still in your herd. The kids put in pictures, feed rations, show results and any thing else you feel to add to your note book (3 ring binders work best) . You also need to write at least one story of any experience you have had with your project this last year.

My goal is for you to have a good record of your Beef Breeding projects over your years of showing cattle.

On a separate piece of paper please write a page or more on your beef operation. Tell about your breeding program, how calving went, breaking your cattle for show, and any thing else about your project/business. Most of all tell what you like best about your project and include pictures to finish your Beef Management Records.
